

CSCI466 HW3

Brock Ellefson

October 23, 2017

1 What is the difference between routing and forwarding?

The difference between routing and forwarding is that routing is finding an optimal path from the sender to the receiver to send packets. Forwarding is the process of sending packets along the route until it eventually gets to the receiver.

2 Describe how packet loss can occur and be eliminated at:

2.1 Router input ports?